How do you ensure the organic integrity and quality of your products?

We strive to offer the very best in organic and natural products. We have a passion for top quality organic products that are developed in farms that exemplify organic and sustainable farming practices, resulting in the best selection for our customers, while doing what's best for the planet.

At Hatton Naturals we maintain the utmost level of quality assurance through our long-standing and trusted relationships with source farms and factories, as well as comprehensive laboratory testing. These tests serve as the primary source of documentation for heavy metals, microbes, bacteria, residue, and other factors that impact the safety and purity of our products.

To further ensure the veracity of our claims, we engage third-party quality and safety organizations such as the USDA and COR to conduct audits. This double auditing process guarantees that our products maintain organic integrity and are accurately represented and held to the highest standards.

Through our unwavering commitment to building relationships, maintaining documentation, conducting thorough laboratory testing, providing ongoing training, and leveraging our experience, we can confidently stand behind the quality and safety of our products.

How do you source your products?

We source most of our products from small and medium family farms, or collectors, that exemplify organic and sustainable farming practices. This form of Direct Fair Trade eliminates the middleman, giving farmers the most return for their efforts.

We believe that establishing a sustainable system for all stakeholders is the key to developing socio-economic standards of small & marginalized organic farmers benefiting everyone from producer to consumer.

When do your products expire?

We take great care to ensure that our products are sourced at the peak of freshness, typically from the latest harvest, and we have a rapid product turnover rate to maintain optimal quality. Some temperature-sensitive products, such as flowers, are kept in temperature controlled storage.

When stored in optimal conditions - cool, dry, dark, and airtight - most dried ingredients can maintain their quality for at least 2-3 years from the date of opening.

Are all of your products organic?

All products are certified organic except a few. These products are organically grown or wild-harvested but aren't certified organic. The non-certified products would be displayed without the USDA logo.

Are all of your products GMO-Free?

Yes, certified organic assures no genetic modification

Are your products Gluten-Free?

All products we currently offer are naturally Gluten-Free. However, it is important to note that we are not a gluten-free facility and do not conduct testing or rating of the gluten content of our products. As a result, we are unable to guarantee that all of our products are entirely free from gluten. That being said, we have implemented stringent standard operating procedures to prevent cross-contamination during our packaging process. We believe that customers who are simply seeking to reduce their gluten intake should have no issues with our products. However, we advise that individuals who are highly sensitive to gluten should only consider purchasing products from a certified facility. While we maintain high standards for cleanliness and safety, we cannot guarantee the complete absence of gluten in our facility.

Are your products Kosher?

Most products we offer are naturally Kosher as they are not modified or contain any additives. We are currently not Kosher certified but hope to be in the near future.

I sent you an email or left a voicemail - when should I expect a response?
